LOCAL NEWS.

CIRCUIT COURT. - The Circuit Court for this county opened its May (semi-annual) term at the Court House in this city this morning.

This term is the first, in this county, of Hon. H. W. Thomas, the newly appointed Judge of this Circuit.

The Grand Jury were called and sworn as follows: J. J. Wheat, foreman, Lewis Stein Geo. W. Clifford, Wm. Arnold, E. Francis, Benedict Wheatley, T. O. Connell, Jos. Grigg, C. A. Ware, Wm. H. Muir, J. T. Creighton, Anthony Moran, H. Callan, Jas. H. Devaughn, D. Turner, J. C. Hewes, and Michael Germann. The Judge then charged the jury, after which they retired to their room.

The Judge in his charge adverted to the necessity of having a judiciary entirely independent; that it was the object of our revolutionary fathers, in constituting it, to render it free from all political influences and all political power; that it was thus constituted the guardian of the dearest rights of man, in a social state. He stated that the Grand Jury was an important part of that wise machinery, and that they should discharge their duties unawed by politi cal power and unintimidated by the threats or frowns of any. He adverted to the abolition of slavery in the United States; that it was now a part of the Constitution, and that its adoption had received the sanction of Virginia, and was also now engrafted in her Constitution; and that the Legislature of the State had radically changed all statutes relating to the colored population, and that it was the duty of all good citizens to accept the altered condition of our political affairs in good faith, and by a strict compliance with all the various laws, relative to the rights of persons and property of the freedmen, and by strict obedience to the Constution and laws of the Government and give assurance thereof, so that a restoration of harmony, fraternity and equality in political rights may be speedily accorded to the Southern States.

The National Intelligencer referring to a busy body," In Washington, who is stirring up strife there, meddling with the local concerns of the people and the city, urging negro suffrage, and pushing on, generally, the radical movements of the radical party, in relation to the District of Columbia, says:-"It comes with an ill grace from such a one, who, as a citizen of another State, but doing a certain kind of business here, to propose laying burdens upon this people that he dares not urge as an issue among the people where he truly belongs, We say this in no spirit of political ill-feeling, but simply to make a strong illustration of the ease with which men go from home to do unto others what they in their own State do not prescribe unto the people."

The annual session of the Episcopal Council which convened in this city on Wednesday, the 16th inst., finished its business on Saturday evening last, and the attendant Church services were closed last night. The proceedings of the Council were marked by dignity of decorum, and an elevated intellectual standard was maintained throughout all its debates. Rarely, in deliberative assemblies of any description, have natural talent and educational advantages, combined with that ture nobility of character, inherent in the Southern gentlemen, been so ap parent as among the clerical and lay delegates to this Council, and the social intimacies and friendly associations formed by our citizens with them, will long be cherished with their happiest recollections.

For the information of the voters of this county, we republish an extract from a letter of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, (J. M. Herndon,) addressed to the Sheriff elect of "Your term of office will, therefore, expire on the 1st day of January, 1867, as will that of all the Sheriffs elected last year." 'At the same time, under the law as it now stands, the election of Constables should take place.""Elections for Justices of the Peace, Attorneys for the Commonwealth, and Overseers of the Poor, should be held on the 4th Thursday in May, 1868, and for Clerks, Commissioners of the Revenue, and Surveyors, on the 4th Thurdsday in May, 1870."

It will therefore by seen by the above that the election for a Sheriff and Constables for each county is to take place on the 4th Thursday in May, 1866-being the 24th of this month.

The Warrenton True Index speaking of the talked of invasion of the territory and rights of Virginia, and of the proposed violation of the rights, and interests and feelings of the greater portion of the citizens of this place, in lately concocted schemes, says, that in all events, "Alexandria would always continue in sympathy and interest a Virginia city." Yes! Thank God, none of them can make us love our State less, or take away the affection we feel for the glorious, thrice glorious Old Commonwealth, dearer to us now than ever, and more worthy than ever of the hearts of her people and

As an impression prevails among some that the State taxes for the years 1861 and '62 were remitted by the last Legislature, we publish the section of the law referred to-regreting to dissipate a pleasing delusion:

Section 61 of an Act imposing taxes for the support of Government, passed February, 28th, 1866. All taxes due before the year 1865, which have not been paid, by the person from whom they are due, or by some person for him, and which have not been accounted for at the treasury by the Sheriff or Collector, are Lereby reand discharged: provided that nothing in this section shall release delinquent taxes against non-residents.

At the last term of the Clarke County Circuit Court, the case of the Commonwealth vs. Heaton, charged with killing a horse-thief named Thompson during the war, was disposed of by the Grand Jury, failing to indict Mr. H. Cel. Mosby, (to whose command Mr. H. belonged,) testified that he acted under orders from him, which, according to an act passed by the Virginia Legislature at its last session, prevented the trial of Mr. H. for the offence.

"Virginian," the Alexandria correspondent of the Washington Sunday Herald, says that the citizens of Alexandria subscribed in small amounts on Saturday last the sum of $10,000, for the completion of the Manassas Gap railroad, and, on the same day, $2,300 for the new ferry that will run to the opposite shore, which will cost only about $4,000.

Pursuant to previous agreement, and notices n the newspapers, about one hundred ma'e persons-white and black-between the ages of 10 and 22 years-from this city, met about 150 of the same class from Washington, yesterday evening, after dinner, at the four mile run, and fought, on the causeway at that point, their usual Sunday's Battle. Upon this occasion, in addition to the slings which have of late been used in their engagements with stunning effect, pistols and guns were more freely employed than heretofore, and with more telling results. As usual the Alexandrians, though outnumbered, drove the Washingtonians from their position, and remained masters of the field, without, however, obtaining such plunder as rewarded their clan in their last fight. The casualties among the Alexandrians amount ed to one seriously wounded in the eye, and two slightly injured by buck shot. One Washingtonian was mortally wounded, and three or four were slightly injured by gun shot wounds.

The conquerors, however, had but a limited enjoyment of their victory, for, at the suggestion of the Mayor, Major Lee, Superintendent of the Freedmen's Bureau in this city, rode to the battle ground, and though shot at several times, endeavored, but in vain, to prevent the commencement of hostilities. He then rode to the Convalescent Camp, and procuring a reinforcement of colored troops, sent, by a detour, a detachment to the long bridge, and with the rest made for the scene of conflict, which point he succeeded in reaching just as the Alexandrians were returning home. A volley, fired over their heads, brought them at first to a halt, then, perceiving the road in front, obstructed by dusky warriors, and that behind filled by the party which had been sent to the long bridge, and having captured a portion of the Washingtonians were returning to this city they broke and run to the right and left. Pursuit was instituted and about fifty, including the Washingtonians, were overhauled and brought to this city. Some, on account of their small size were released by Maj. Lee, but thirty nine were turned over to Justice Colton, who committed them to jail. Those who could give bail to appear this morning were released upon the payment of the legitimate jail fee, amounting to fifty cents, and the rest were confined to await their trial, which is to take place to-morrow morning at ten o'clock, at the jail before Justices Colton and Uhler and Mayor Latham. Six more of the belligerents were arrested this morning, and confined in the ail. The friends of many of the persons from Washington visited this city this morning to procure their release, and many visitors were at ogton street, between Duke and Wolfe, was burglariously entered last night, and robbed of silver ware, dry and green groceries, and table linen and napkins, the whole amounting in value to about $100. A trunk of an absent member of the family, the value of which | . is at present unknown, was also stolen. The entrance into the house was effected by cutting through the blinds of the rear parlor window.

A coroner's inquest was held yesterday evening by acting coroner ,Justice Colton, upon the body of a negro boy, aged seventeen years named Charles Beard, who was drowned yesterday about one o'cleck, while swiming in the Potomas, at the coal wharves. The verdict | a. m. rendered was accidental drowning.

We understand that the Trustees of the Virginia Theological Seminary have elected Rev. Dr. Walker a professor in that institution, in the place of Rev. Dr. May, deceased. The appointment is considered a most excellent one, Dr. W. possessing, in an eminent degree, all the qualifications for the position.

A gentleman from the country recently sent to E. S. Leadbeater & Co., of this city, for examination, the roe of a shad, the result of which examination was: 500 of the spawn weighed 15 grains, or 2000 to 1 dram; weight of roe, 10 oz., or 160,00 spawn in a roe.

Portner's Potomac Garden will, as can be seen by an advertisement in this evening's Gazette, be opened this evening. A splendid brass band will discourse sweet music upon the occasion, and all who attend are promised an agrecable time.

It will be seen by reference to the Sheriff's notice, in this evening's Gazette, that those who have not paid their taxes up to the first of January, 1866, will not be entitled to vote at the election on Thursday next.

A negro soldier, armed to the teeth, was arrested by the police yesterday evening in Pe tersburg for disorderly conduct. He was confined in the Watch House until the Military Authorities took charge of him.

We are authorized to state that James A. English, esq., is not now, nor has been, a candidate for the Sheriffalty of this county, but will most cheerfully support the only candidate, Capt. J. M. Steuart.

The imposing ceremony of ordination was performed in Grace Church yesterday morning -Bishop Johns officiating. Mr. McKim was
